ILLS FROM POVERTY

FALL HEAVIEST ON THE WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

REV. RANDOLPH SAYS

Should Be a National Law Against Child Labor, Regulating the Hours and Work for Women.

Rev. J. D. Randolph, pastor of the Buchanan Street Methodist church, preached Sunday evening the second of a course of sermons on social themes. The subject of the discourse was not "Society's Crime Against the Criminal," as announced, but "Women and Children in Toil." The change was made because of the minister's failure to secure the pictures illustrating the former theme. Mr. Randolph said in part:

The purpose of the sermon this evening is to show how the 'vicious circle' created by poverty works as related to women and children. The ills produced by poverty fall heaviest upon the weakest of the race, the women and children. They are forced into the mills and factories of the land to toil long hours for miserable wages. As a result of overwork and poor and insufficient food they are morally and physically weakened. The full consequence of this degeneration will be shown in the sermon on 'Society's Crime Against the Criminal.' My purpose in preaching this course of sermons is to help convict society before the bar of its own conscience of the crime of poverty.

The recent census discloses the fact that there are about five and a half million women in the United States who are wage earners. Nineteenth of the adult female workers receive less than $600 a year. Many of them work from ten to twelve hours a day for $3 or $4 a week. The average wage paid to women in the United States is slightly more than $550 a week. That means that this great army of women get on an average a little more than $250 a year.

An expert has said that in our country 50,000 women yearly join the ranks of prostitution in order that factories and mills employing women may pay a dividend of 1 per cent more on their stock. To be paid less than a living wage endangers the morals of every working woman who is dependent entirely upon her own labor for a support.

The number of children between the ages of 10 and 15 years at work for wages in the United States is not less than 1,750,000. Since 1880 the number of child wage slaves has increased faster relatively than the population.

The number of school hours for the children of our country is on the average 1,000 a year. Factory hours for children are 2,600 a year. So these children, excepting Sundays, have the joy of the sunshine for only one hour a week.

The only possible solution of the problem of women and children in toil is a national law against child labor; a law regulating the hours and working conditions of women and fixing a minimum wage for their services. Such laws would force the level of wages for men to a higher point."

TO GIVE A BANQUET.

The Wage Earners Class of the Buchanan Street Methodist Church to Have a Spread.

The Wage Earners class of the Buchanan Street Methodist Sunday school will give a banquet Friday night at the church to celebrate its first anniversary. The Ladies' Aid society of the church will serve the banquet, which insures its success. New members of the class will be the guests of the old members.

The class started a year ago with four members and now numbers sixty-five. A few months ago the class divided for a contest, which closed last Friday night. The losers were to serve the banquet, but the result was a tie, so the Ladies' Aid were called on to serve the dinner. The contest added twenty-five to the class and eight to the insurance department, that was inaugurated six months ago. This department is paying one of its members now a sick benefit of $8 a week. If a member is sick the assessment for each of the other members is 50 cents a week.

Rev. Randolph, the pastor, is the teacher of this class. It meets every Friday night for a business and social session, and has all the objects and benefits of a men's club.

The contest just closed had for the captains of the two divisions Ed Dale and Charles Wilson.

At the banquet Dr. F. E. Hamilton will preside as toastmaster, and the program will be announced later.

J. E. Melvin and the Captain of the Boat Are the Heroes—Accident Happened in California.

U. S. Wright received a letter last week from J. E. Melvin, who, with his wife, is visiting in California this winter, in which he writes they are having an excellent time, beautiful weather, but lots of rain. They are enjoying the many sights and side trips. However, they met with quite an accident last week on their trip to the Catalina Islands. When about four miles from shore the boat capsized, spilling all out in the ocean. Jake and the captain swam to the shore, secured a glass bottomed boat, returned and rescued the whole outfit.

CONVERSATIONS NUMBER 166.

Pickering Meetings Closed Sunday Night After Four Weeks Effort.

What is regarded as the most successful revival meeting ever held in Nodaway county closed Sunday night at the Methodist church with 160 conversions. Eighty-five of this number have united with the Methodist church, while the remaining number will go to the Christian church and other denominations in that vicinity.

The pastor of the Methodist church, Rev. John L. Stillman, baptized twenty-nine at the morning service Sunday and thirteen in the baptistry of the Christian church Sunday afternoon. On Wednesday afternoon of this week he will baptize another number in the river near Pickering.

Evangelist Goodale, who had charge to the preaching, and his singer, Mr. Olson, left Monday morning for Worth, Mo., to conduct a meeting there.

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

Mothers' Club is Satisfied With Results of Meeting.

The farmers' institute held at Pickering Saturday afternoon was quite a success, and the Mothers' club of that place, who were responsible for the meeting, are satisfied with the results. The meeting was not so largely attended as it would have been had it not been the closing day of the four-weeks revival that has been in progress there. J. Kelley Wright spoke on silos, or "canned corn," as he called it. Miss Hettie Anthony of the domestic science department of the State Normal spoke on the proper food for maintaining health.

Will Build Soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Epperson awarded Monday a contract to W. F. Bolin, the contractor and builder, for a complete set of improvements, consisting of a house, barn, chicken houses and smokehouse, to be built on their farm, about one and a half miles south of town. Work will begin immediately.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES.

P. O. Landon, head of the music department of the Normal school, gave a short program during the assembly hour Monday morning. Mr. Landon, who is a general favorite with the students, gave one of the short talks for which he is so well known, and then proceeded to give his audience a real musical treat. Mr. Landon played five numbers, Prelude in C sharp minor, Rachmaninoff; Shadow Dance, McDowell; Nocture in F, Schuman; Whims, Schuman; Largo from seventh sonata, Beethoven.

Rev. James Cunningham, missionary from Central Africa, spoke to the Normal school students during the assembly hour Wednesday morning. Mr. Cunningham gave a very charming description of the route which one takes in going from America to Africa and the numberless interesting things to be seen along the way. He gave a description of the work which is being done in his section of the mission field, and emphasized in particular the need of energetic young Christians to forward the work there.

At the close of his talk Mr. Cunningham counted, in the African tongue and also sang two familiar hymns in African. He is a charming speaker, and his earnestness in telling his message made a deep impression on his hearers.

The Normal school basket ball fans, and that takes in everybody who goes out on the old hill, are rejoicing over the first basket ball victory of the season. The Wesleyans were defeated last night by a 23-18 score.

Professor John E. Cameron of the Normal school faculty gave an account of his trip to Columbia, where he attended the farmers' week, some time ago. MISSOURI MAY SUE Rate Injunction Against Attorney General Is Dismissed.

M'PHERSON MODIFIES ORDER

Federal Judge Appoints Master to Take Testimony in Cases Where Claimants Prefer to Bring Suit for Overcharges in Federal Court.

Injunctions against John T. Barker, attorney general of Missouri, preventing him from proceeding with suits to recover $24,000,000 excess freight and passenger charges made by railroads while the Missouri rate cases were in litigation, were dissolved in an opinion by Judge Smith McPherson, filed in the federal court at Kansas City.

The original injunction brought by railroads to prevent enforcement of Missouri's 2-cent passenger and maximum freight laws also were dismissed in accordance with the recent decision of the United States supreme court upholding the laws.

In addition, the court held the $16,000 bond put up by each railroad in 1905, when the state rate laws were enjoined, has no reference to those persons who have paid excess rates or passenger fares and they can recover whatever is due them.

"The injunction bond," declared Judge McPherson, "does not limit any person as to his claim for recovery of overcharges."

Judge McPherson appointed Wash Adams, an attorney of Kansas City, as a master to adjudicate all claims brought in the federal court for excess charges, declaring, however, that claimants might sue for recovery of overcharges in any court they choose—a state or national.

The court declared it would retain jurisdiction over only such claims as might be filed before the master for adjudication.

Attorney General Barker had opposed the court's right to appoint a master. He contended that, under the decree of the higher court, Judge McPherson's only duty lay in dismissing the cases "without prejudice," taking no cognizance of how the excess charges were collected.

Wisconsin Marriage Law Unconstitutional.

The apparent deadlock in Wisconsin over the amendment to the marriage law requiring a physician's certificate as a condition for a marriage license has been broken, for the present, at least, by the decision of the Milwaukee county circuit court that the law is unconstitutional and void.

The matter was brought before the circuit court on an application for a writ of mandamus, directed against the county clerk, ordering him to issue a marriage license to an applicant without a health certificate.

The court held that the amount of fee provided for the examinations as required by law was an undue interference with personal liberty. This decision, while only that of a circuit court, will act as a stay to the enforcement of the law until the higher courts have passed on the question.

Probably no other topic has inspired so large an amount of newspaper comment in the past month. Wisconsin's experience, says The Journal of the American Medical association, should be a warning to state legislatures not to enact hasty and ill-considered laws on complex scientific subjects.

The discussion of eugenics, race betterment and marriage regulation is productive of a large amount of good, but premature efforts to crystallize hastily formed opinions into laws can result only in confusion.

On Their Honeymoon Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Becker will leave Monday for Reading, Pa., on a visit to Mr. Becker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mondon L. Becker. This will be Mr. and Mrs. Becker's honeymoon trip. They were married the 8th of October last, but Mr. Becker's business at that time would not permit his absence. This will be his first visit home in ten years. He left home to sing in light opera and later sang in grand opera. He kept coming farther west, and when he finally settled for business he was too far from home to make the trip easily.

Eads-Ingles Wedding.

A pretty wedding took place Sunday noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Eads, 504 North Mulberry street, where their daughter, Miss Permelia Eads, was united in marriage to George W. Ingles, a young farmer of Union Star, Mo. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert L. Finch of the First Christian church, in the presence of a few relatives and friends. Attending the bridal couple were Ora Eads of Easton, Mo., a brother of the bride, and Miss Edith Foster of St. Joseph. The rooms were decorated for the occasion with ferns and white wedding bells. The bride's gown was of white satin, trimmed in pearls and ruching, and with it she wore a large white beaver hat trimmed with white plumes. After the ceremony the company was invited to the dining room, where a three course dinner was served, a color scheme of pink and white being carried out for decorating, white carnations and pink roses, with ferns being used. Those present beside those already named were Guy Eads of King City, Miss Winifred Ingles of Union Star, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carroll, Paul Carroll, Kenneth Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Eads, Dewey and Perry Eads. Mr. Ingles and his bride left Monday morning for their new home at Union Star.

Visiting at Carey Home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hardesty of Oregon, Ill., who have been the guests since Christmas of Mrs. Hardesty's mother, Mrs. J. C. Ordnung, and sister, Miss Elizabeth, went to Maryville the middle of the week to be the guest the last of the week of Miss Ella Carey and Rufus Carey. Mrs. Hardesty, who was Miss Ida M. Ordnung before her marriage, has been a chum since childhood of Miss Carey, who was called to Burlington at the time of her marriage and entertained for several days at the beautiful Ordnung home. They will make a short visit at Bolckow, then a week's visit at Savannah at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Ordnung and family, before returning to their home at Oregon, Ill., where Mr. Hardesty is a member of a piano firm. Although Mr. Hardesty's home is in Illinois, and he has lived there all of his life, at one time being considered one of their confirmed bachelors, he says he is not married entirely to Illinois, and thinks Missouri is a good state and filled with bright, intelligent people.—Burlington Junction Post.

To Better Live Stock.

With the primary aim of making better the already high grade of live stock of Northwest Missouri, the North Missouri Pure Bred Live Stock association will conduct its third annual sale at Trenton, March 9, next. The organization is made up solely of live stock breeders of this section of the state who have been developing pure bred herds of blooded horses, cattle, sheep and hogs. They organized to promote local sales to induce more men to go into the breeding of improved live stock on high priced farms.

The farmer of today owning or renting land which is valued at $100 an acre and above, cannot afford to raise grade stuff. It eats as much and requires as much attention as pure bred stock which sells at from two to five times as much. Feed and land are too high to produce food for cheap stock. In order to make a success at the game, animals commanding higher prices must be raised. The difference in original investment is not much larger and it pays so much better in the long run. To get the pure bred stock to the farmers of this section at their own prices and let them demonstrate what it means to them was the idea the breeders of Northwest Missouri have in promoting these sales," was the statement of W. A. McVay, president of the association when asked the purpose.

Gallatin and Cameron have already had these sales. They will be moved about from one town to another each year according to the plan, thus giving it a local as well as a sectional benefit.

INDIGESTION OR GAS

Take "Pape's Diapepsin" and in Five Minutes You'll Wonder What Became of Misery in Stomach.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—Advertisement.

Baltimore, Feb. 2.—In a report to the officials of the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation company, Captain Berry of the steamer Nantucket, that was in collision with the steamer Monroe, when forty-one lives were lost, and which docked here, said that in an endeavor to avoid the collision the Nantucket's helm was put hard aport to keep to the right, but the Monroe proceeded at full speed and tried to cross the bow of the Nantucket. It succeeded in getting partly past the Nantucket's stem when the vessels collided, the Nantucket's stem striking the Monroe's starboard bow forward of the pilot house about at right angles. The Monroe passed under such great speed, according to Captain Berry's report, that the stem of the Nantucket was bent sharply toward its starboard side and the Nantucket slewed around so that its port side was scraped by the Monroe, crushing one of the Nantucket's port bows. The Monroe passed out of sight. At the time of the collision the Nantucket's engines were running at full speed astern and had been so running for some time previous to the collision.

RAINES BROTHERS, Jewelers and Opticians
110 WEST THIRD STREET — — — "JUST A STEP PAST MAIN"*TIME FOR ROAD WORK NOW.

Work Should Be Done When the Soil Is Damp, so Says the Department at Washington.

It is a great mistake to put off working roads until August or September, according to road experts of the U. S. department of agriculture. The roads should be worked when the soil is damp, so as to make the soil bake when it dries out. If the roads are worked when they are dry it takes more power to draw the machine, and besides dry earth and dust retain moisture and quickly rut after rains. The use of clods, sods, weeds or vegetable matter in building earth roads should be avoided because they also retain moisture.

If the working of the roads is deferred until the latter part of the summer, when the surface is baked dry and hard, they are not only difficult to work, but the work is unsatisfactory when done. Earth which is loose and dry will remain dusty as long as the dry weather lasts, and then turn to mud as the rains begin. By using the road machine in the spring, while the soil is soft and damp, the surface is more easily shaped and soon packs down into a dry hard crust which is less liable to become dusty in summer and muddy in winter.

Repairs to roads should be made when needed and not once a year after crops are laid by. Because of its simplicity, efficiency and cheapness the split-log drag or some similar device is destined to come into more and more general use. With the drag properly built and its use well understood, the maintenance of earth and gravel roads become a simple and inexpensive matter. Care should be taken to make the log so light that one man lift it with ease, as a light drag can be drawn by two medium sized horses and responds more readily to various methods of hitching and the shifting position of the operator than a heavier one. The best material for the drag is a dry cedar log, though elm, walnut, box elder or soft maple are excellent. Oak, hickory or ash are too heavy. The log should be from seven to ten feet long, and from eight to ten inches in diameter. It should be split carefully as near the center as possible, and the heaviest and best slab chosen for the front. When the soil is moist, but not sticky, the drag does the best work. As the soil in the field will bake if plowed wet, so the road will bake if the drag is used on it when it is wet. If the roadway is full of holes or badly rutted the drag should be used once when the road is soft and slushy.

The earth road can best be crowned and ditched with a road machine and not with picks and shovels, scoops and plows. One road machine with a suitable power and operator will do the work of many men with picks and shovels, and in addition will do it better. If the road is composed of fine clay or soil it will sometimes pay to resurface it with top soil from an adjacent field, which has sand or gravel mixed with it. This method, called the "top soil method," is now in successful use in Clarke county, Georgia.

Storm water should be disposed of quickly before it has had time to penetrate deeply into the surface of the road. This can be done by giving the road a crown or slope from the center to the sides. For an earth road which is 24 feet wide the center should be not less than 6 inches nor more than 12 inches higher than the outer edges of the shoulder. The narrow road which is high in the middle will become rutted almost as quickly as one which is too flat, for the reason that on a narrow road all the traffic is forced to use only a narrow strip. Shoulders are often formed on both sides of the road, which prevents storm water from flowing into the side ditches, retaining it in the ruts and softening the roadway. These ruts and shoulders can be entirely eliminated with the road machine or split-log drag.

The width of the earth road will depend on the traffic. As a rule, 25 or 30 feet from ditch to ditch is sufficient if the road is properly crowned. Ordinarily the only ditches needed are those made with the road machine which are wide and shallow. Deep, narrow ditches wash rapidly, especially on steep slopes. The earth road should not be loosened, dug up or plowed up any more than is absolutely necessary. It should be gradually raised, not lowered, hardened nor softened.

CHICAGO CHURCHES

Attendance Doubled as Result of Go-to-Church Campaign.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—As a result of the newspaper campaign to encourage attendance in the 1,200 churches here, fully 500,000 persons renewed their acquaintance with church, doubling the attendance, according to estimates by the church committee, which originated the campaign.

All denominations joined in the movement. Some pastors reported that an average Sunday attendance of 500 persons became 1,000 in the morning, while the night attendance showed a similar attendance.

The average Sunday attendance was estimated at 500,000 persons and the increase, based on the increase in the first hundred churches reported, was estimated at fully 500,000.

Sermons were preached in all the churches urging the strangers to attempt to attend regularly. No special collections were taken.

Experience meetings followed the services in the ante-room of many churches. Many had not been to church in years, they said.

Denver, Feb. 2.—The sudden disappearance of Rev. George Gallup, vicar of St. John's cathedral, has created a stir in church circles, especially as Dean Hart, under whom the vicar worked, intimated that the vicar's disappearance was connected with scandal.

The predominant strain of the eulogies was the unassuming honesty and steadfastness of the dead.

The coffin, in a great mass of flowers, rested under the rostrum and between famous paintings of Lincoln and Douglas, which hang on either side of the hall.

The 2,200 seats were quickly filled and soon the doors were closed and hundreds were turned away. In the hall were friends and acquaintances, political and social, of many years, but the penalty of the statesman's eighty-five years of life was seen in the absence of close relatives.

Of his own blood there were present only two nieces, Mrs. G. H. Schimpff and Mrs. George Davis, and their children, of Peoria. An aged sister, Mrs. Linna Lepper, survives, is invalid. All the others had precessed him to the grave.

Part of the road to the cemetery followed by the funeral procession is that over which the body of Abraham Lincoln, Cullom's early friend and preceptor, was borne nearly half a century ago. The burial ground lay deep in snow.

It has repeatedly been said by successful men, who started in a small way, that the first thousand dollars was the hardest to save—after that it was easier. The interest earned was a great help.

If not, do it at once. One dollar will start you. Three per cent compound interest will keep it growing.

OPPOSE NAVAL INCREASES

Inquiry Begun Into Charges of Corruption in Japan.

Tokyo, Feb. 2.—The public prosecutor and a naval commission have opened inquiries into the charges of naval corruption. The naval commission is headed by Admiral Baron Dewa and will inquire into the allegations that Vice Admiral Fuji, formerly Japanese naval attaché at Berlin, and other officers had received illicit commissions on contracts.

While certain opposition groups are attempting to make use of the charges in an effort to discredit and overthrow the ministry, there is no doubt that the public has been aroused over the allegations and will exact a rigid investigation.

The increased naval estimates, which are included in the pending budget, form another basis for an attack. Baron Shimada, who is leading the opposition, has issued a statement that he will seek the rejection of the naval increases in the diet because they are liable to arouse suspicion in the United States that they are aimed against that country.

ILLS FROM POVERTY

FALL HEAVIEST ON THE WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

REV. RANDOLPH SAYS

Rev. J. D. Randolph, pastor of the Buchanan Street Methodist church, preached Sunday evening the second of a course of sermons on social themes. The subject of the discourse was not "Society's Crime Against the Criminal," as announced, but "Women and Children in Toil." The change was made because of the minister's failure to secure the pictures illustrating the former theme. Mr. Randolph said in part:

"The purpose of the sermon this evening is to show how the 'vicious circle' created by poverty works as related to women and children. The ills produced by poverty fall heaviest upon the weakest of the race, the women and children. They are forced into the mills and factories of the land to toil long hours for miserable wages. As a result of overwork and poor and insufficient food they are morally and physically weakened. The full consequence of this degeneration will be shown in the sermon on 'Society's Crime Against the Criminal.' My purpose in preaching this course of sermons is to help convict society before the bar of its own conscience of the crime of poverty."

The recent census discloses the fact that there are about five and a half million women in the United States who are wage earners. Nineteen-tenths of the adult female workers receive less than $600 a year. Many of them work from ten to twelve hours a day for $3 or $4 a week. The average wage paid to women in the United States is slightly more than $5.50 a week. That means that this great army of women get on an average a little more than $250 a year.

An expert has said that in our country 50,000 women yearly join the ranks of prostitution in order that factories and mills employing women may pay a dividend of 1 per cent more on their stock. To be paid less than a living wage endangers the morals of every working woman who is dependent entirely upon her own labor for a support.

The number of children between the ages of 10 and 15 years at work for wages in the United States is not less than 1,750,000. Since 1880 the number of child wage slaves has increased faster relatively than the population.

The number of school hours for the children of our country is on the average 1,000 a year. Factory hours for children are 2,600 a year. So these children, excepting Sundays, have the joy of the sunshine for only one hour a week.

The only possible solution of the problem of women and children in toil is a national law against child labor; a law regulating the hours and working conditions of women and fixing a minimum wage for their services. Such laws would force the level of wages for men to a higher point."

TO GIVE A BANQUET.

The Wage Earners Class of the Buchanan Street Methodist Church to Have a Spread.

The Wage Earners class of the Buchanan Street Methodist Sunday school will give a banquet Friday night at the church to celebrate its first anniversary. The Ladies' Aid society of the church will serve the banquet, which insures its success. New members of the class will be the guests of the old members.

The class started a year ago with four members and now numbers sixty-five. A few months ago the class divided for a contest, which closed last Friday night. The losers were to serve the banquet, but the result was a tie, so the Ladies' Aid were called on to serve the dinner. The contest added twenty-five to the class and eight to the insurance department, that was inaugurated six months ago. This department is paying one of its members now a sick benefit of $8 a week. If a member is sick the assessment for each of the other members is 50 cents a week.

Rev. Randolph, the pastor, is the teacher of this class. It meets every Friday night for a business and social session, and has all the objects and benefits of a men's club.

The contest just closed had for the captains of the two divisions Ed Dale and Charles Wilson.

At the banquet Dr. F. E. Hamilton will preside as toastmaster, and the program will be announced later.

One S. Wright received a letter last week from J. E. Melvin, who, with his wife, is visiting in California this winter, in which he writes they are having an excellent time, beautiful weather, but lots of rain. They are enjoying the many sights and side trips. However, they met with quite an accident last week on their trip to the Catalina Islands. When about four miles from shore the boat capsized, spilling all out in the ocean. Jake and the captain swam to the shore, secured a glass bottomed boat, returned and rescued the whole outfit.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES.

P. O. Landon, head of the music department of the Normal school, gave a short program during the assembly hour Monday morning. Mr. Landon, who is a general favorite with the students, gave one of the short talks for which he is so well known, and then proceeded to give his audience a real musical treat. Mr. Landon played five numbers, Prelude in C sharp minor, Rachmaninoff; Shadow Dance, McDowell; Nocture in F, Schuman; Whims, Schuman; Largo from seventh sonata, Beethoven.

In addition, the court held the $16,000 bond put up by each railroad in 1905, when the state rate laws were enjoined, has no reference to those persons who have paid excess rates or passenger fares and they can recover whatever is due them.

"The injunction bond," declared Judge McPherson, "does not limit any person as to his claim for recovery of overcharges."

Judge McPherson appointed Wash Adams, an attorney of Kansas City, as a master to adjudicate all claims brought in the federal court for excess charges, declaring, however, that claimants might sue for recovery of overcharges in any court they choose—a state or national.

The court declared it would retain jurisdiction over only such claims as might be filed before the master for adjudication.

Attorney General Barker had opposed the court's right to appoint a master. He contended that, under the decree of the higher court, Judge McPherson's only duty lay in dismissing the cases "without prejudice," taking no cognizance of how the excess charges were collected.

Wisconsin Marriage Law Unconstitutional.

The apparent deadlock in Wisconsin over the amendment to the marriage law requiring a physician's certificate as a condition for a marriage license has been broken, for the present, at least, by the decision of the Milwaukee county circuit court that the law is unconstitutional and void.

The matter was brought before the circuit court on an application for a writ of mandamus, directed against the county clerk, ordering him to issue a marriage license to an applicant without a health certificate. The court held that the amount of fee provided for the examinations as required by law was an undue interference with personal liberty. This decision, while only that of a circuit court, will act as a stay to the enforcement of the law until the higher courts have passed on the question.

Probably no other topic has inspired so large an amount of newspaper comment in the past month. Wisconsin's experience, says The Journal of the American Medical Association, should be a warning to state legislatures not to enact hasty and ill-considered laws on complex scientific subjects.

The discussion of eugenics, race betterment and marriage regulation is productive of a large amount of good, but premature efforts to crystallize hastily formed opinions into laws can result only in confusion.

The Normal school basket ball fans, and that takes in everybody who goes out on the old hill, are rejoicing over the first basket ball victory of the season. The Wesleyans were defeated last night by a 23-18 score.

Professor John E. Cameron of the Normal school faculty gave an account of his trip to Columbia, where he attended the farmers' week, some time ago. Mr. Cameron gave some interesting information in regard to the work which is being done by the state university in connection with the Missouri farmer to raise more and better crops.

M'PHERSON MODIFIES ORDER

Injunctions against John T. Barker, attorney general of Missouri, preventing him from proceeding with suits to recover $24,000,000 excess freight and passenger charges made by railroads while the Missouri rate cases were in litigation, were dissolved in an opinion by Judge Smith McPherson, filed in the federal court at Kansas City.

The original injunction brought by railroads to prevent enforcement of Missouri's 2-cent passenger and maximum freight laws also were dismissed in accordance with the recent decision of the United States supreme court upholding the laws.

In addition, the court held the $16,000 bond put up by each railroad in 1905, when the state rate laws were enjoined, has no reference to those persons who have paid excess rates or passenger fares and they can recover whatever is due them.

"The injunction bond," declared Judge McPherson, "does not limit any person as to his claim for recovery of overcharges."

Change of Meeting.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Buchanan Street Methodist church will meet for their regular business session Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the church. The date of the meeting was changed on account of the Wage Earners class banquet on Friday evening, which will be served by the ladies of the church.

The Dew Drop Inn Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yeager entertained the Dew Drop Inn club at their home Thursday evening. A very pleasant social evening was much enjoyed by all. During the evening a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess. This ends the series of evening meetings of the club. The next meeting will be in the afternoon, time and place to be announced later.

Miss Roberts Entertained.

Miss Esther Roberts entertained a number of her friends at her home, on East Third street, Saturday evening. Guessing games were played and an enjoyable time was had, after which refreshments were served and the guests were taken to the Empire theater. Those present were Misses Mildred Young, Essie McDonald, Juno Jones, Messrs. Abner Johnson, Donald Roberts, Harold Sawyers and Lee Strickler.

On Their Honeymoon Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Becker will leave Monday for Reading, Pa., on a visit to Mr. Becker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mondon L. Becker. This will be Mr. and Mrs. Becker's honeymoon trip. They were married the 8th of October last, but Mr. Becker's business at that time would not permit his absence. This will be his first visit home in ten years. He left home to sing in light opera and later sang in grand opera. He kept coming farther west, and when he finally settled for business he was too far from home to make the trip easily.

Eads-Ingles Wedding.

A pretty wedding took place Sunday noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Eads, 504 North Mulberry street, when their daughter, Miss Fernella Eads, was united in marriage to George W. Ingles, a young farmer of Union Star, Mo. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert L. Finch of the First Christian church, in the presence of a few relatives and friends. Attending the bridal couple were Ora Eads of Easton, Mo., a brother of the bride, and Miss Edith Foster of St. Joseph. The rooms were decorated for the occasion with ferns and white wedding bells. The bride's gown was of white satin, trimmed in pearls and ruching, and with it she wore a large white beaver hat trimmed with white plumes. After the ceremony the company was invited to the dining room, where a three course dinner was served, a color scheme of pink and white being carried out for decorating, white carnations and pink roses, with ferns being used. Those present beside those already named were Guy Eads of King City, Miss Winifred Ingles of Union Star, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carroll, Paul Carroll, Kenneth Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Eads, Dewey and Perry Eads. Mr. Ingles and his bride left Monday morning for their new home at Union Star.

Visiting at Carey Home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hardesty of Oregon, Ill., who have been the guests since Christmas of Mrs. Hardesty's mother, Mrs. J. C. Ordnung, and sister, Miss Elizabeth, went to Maryville the middle of the week to be the guest the last of the week of Miss Ella Carey and Rufus Carey. Mrs. Hardesty, who was Miss Ida M. Ordnung before her marriage, has been a chum since childhood of Miss Carey, who was called to Burlington at the time of her marriage and entertained for several days at the beautiful Ordnung home. They will make a short visit at Bolckow, then a week's visit at Savannah at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Ordnung and family, before returning to their home at Oregon, Ill., where Mr. Hardesty is a member of a piano firm. Although Mr. Hardesty's home is in Illinois, and he has lived there all of his life, at one time being considered one of their confirmed bachelors, he says he is not married entirely to Illinois, and thinks Missouri is a good state and filled with bright, intelligent people.—Burlington Junction Post.

To Better Live Stock.
With the primary aim of making better the already high grade of live stock of Northwest Missouri, the North Missouri Pure Bred Live Stock association will conduct its third annual sale at Trenton, March 9, next. The organization is made up solely of live stock breeders of this section of the state who have been developing pure bred herds of blooded horses, cattle, sheep and hogs. They organized to promote local sales to induce more men to go into the breeding of improved live stock on high priced farms.

The farmer of today owning or renting land which is valued at $100 an acre and above, cannot afford to raise grade stuff. It eats as much and requires as much attention as pure bred stock which sells at from two to five times as much. Feed and land are too high to produce food for cheap stock. In order to make a success at the game, animals commanding higher prices must be raised. The difference in original investment is not much larger and it pays so much better in the long run. To get the pure bred stock to the farmers of this section at their own prices and let them demonstrate what it means to them was the idea the breeders of Northwest Missouri have in promoting these sales," was the statement of W. A. McVay, president of the association when asked the purpose.

Gallatin and Cameron have already had these sales. They will be moved about from one town to another each year according to the plan, thus giving it a local as well as a sectional benefit.

SICK, SOUR STOMACH,
INDIGESTION OR GAS
Take "Pape's Diapepsin" and in Five Minutes You'll Wonder What Came of Misery in Stomach.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—Advertisement.

NANTUCKET IN DOCK AT BALTIMORE

Captain Says Monroe Was Going at Very High Speed.

Baltimore, Feb. 2.—In a report to the officials of the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation company, Captain Berry of the steamer Nantucket, that was in collision with the steamer Monroe, when forty-one lives were lost, and which docked here, said that in an endeavor to avoid the collision the Nantucket's helm was put hard aport to keep to the right, but the Monroe proceeded at full speed and tried to cross the bow of the Nantucket. It succeeded in getting partly past the Nantucket's stem when the vessels collided, the Nantucket's stem striking the Monroe's starboard bow forward of the pilot house about at right angles. The Monroe passed under such great speed, according to Captain Berry's report, that the stem of the Nantucket was bent sharply toward its starboard side and the Nantucket slewed around so that its port side was scraped by the Monroe, crushing one of the Nantucket's port bows. The Monroe passed on out of sight. At the time of the collision the Nantucket's engines were running at full speed astern and had been so running for some time previous to the collision.

TIME FOR ROAD WORK NOW.

Work Should Be Done When the Soil is Damp, so Says the Department at Washington.

It is a great mistake to put off working roads until August or September, according to road experts of the U. S. department of agriculture. The roads should be worked when the soil is damp, so as to make the soil bake when it dries out. If the roads are worked when they are dry it takes more power to draw the machine, and beside dry earth and dust retain moisture and quickly rot after rains. The use of clods, sods, weeds or vegetable matter in building earth roads should be avoided because they also retain moisture.

If the working of the roads is deferred until the latter part of the summer, when the surface is baked dry and hard, they are not only difficult to work, but the work is unsatisfactory when done. Earth which is loose and dry will remain dusty as long as the dry weather lasts, and then turn to mud as the rains begin. By using the road machine in the spring, while the soil is soft and damp, the surface is more easily shaped and soon packs down into a dry hard crust which is less liable to become dusty in summer and muddy in winter.

Repairs to roads should be made when needed and not once a year after crops are laid by. Because of its simplicity, efficiency and cheapness the split-log drag or some similar device is destined to come into more and more general use. With the drag properly built and its use well understood, the maintenance of earth and gravel roads become simple and inexpensive matter. Care should be taken to make the log so light that one man lift it with ease, as a light drag can be drawn by two medium sized horses and responds more readily to various methods of hitching and the shifting position of the operator than a heavier one. The best material for the drag is a dry cedar log, though elm, walnut, box elder or soft maple are excellent. Oak, hickory or ash are too heavy. The log should be from seven to ten feet long, and from eight to ten inches in diameter. It should be split carefully as near the center as possible, and the heaviest and best slab chosen for the front. When the soil is moist, but not sticky, the drag does the best work.

As the soil in the field will bake if plowed wet, so the road will bake if the drag is used on it when it is wet. If the roadway is full of holes or badly rutted the drag should be used once when the road is soft and slushy.

The earth road can best be crowned and ditched with a road machine and not with picks and shovels, scoops and plows. One road machine with a suitable power and operator will do the work of many men with picks and shovels, and in addition will do it better. If the road is composed of fine clay or soil it will sometimes pay to resurface it with top soil from an adjacent field, which has sand or gravel mixed with it. This method, called the "top soil method," is now in successful use in Clarke county, Georgia.

Storm water should be disposed of quickly before it has had time to penetrate deeply into the surface of the road. This can be done by giving the road a crown or slope from the center to the sides. For an earth road which is 24 feet wide the center should be not less than 6 inches nor more than 12 inches higher than the outer edges of the shoulder. The narrow road which is high in the middle will become rutted almost as quickly as one which is too flat, for the reason that on a narrow road all the traffic is forced to use only a narrow strip. Shoulders are often formed on both sides of the road, which prevents storm water from flowing into the side ditches, retaining it in the ruts and softening the roadway. These ruts and shoulders can be entirely eliminated with the road machine or split-log drag.

The width of the earth road will depend on the traffic. As a rule, 25 or 30 feet from ditch to ditch is sufficient if the road is properly crowned. Ordinarily the only ditches needed are those made with the road machine which are wide and shallow. Deep, narrow ditches wash rapidly, especially on steep slopes. The earth road should not be loosened, dug up or plowed up any more than is absolutely necessary. It should be gradually raised, not lowered, hardened nor softened.

The test is simple and it is infallible:—Are you able to save money? If not, drop out. You will lose. You may think not but you will lose as sure as you live. The seed of success is not in you."

FUNERAL OF
S. M. CULLOM

Eulogies Spoken by Governor Dunne and Senator Sherman.

BODY LOWERED IN THE GRAVE

Many Friends and Acquaintances, but Few Relatives, Present at Services in Hall of Representative at Springfield, Ill.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 2.—The body of former Senator Shelby M. Cullom was interred in the family lot at Oak Ridge cemetery. It rests between the graves of his two wives, Hannah and Julia Fisher, who were sisters, and in the same plot of ground are the resting places of their five children.

Funeral services were held in the hall of representatives in the state house, where the memorial sermon was preached by Rev. Duncan C. MacLeod and eulogies were delivered by Governor Dunne, Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman and Clinton L. Conkling from the same rostrum from which Mr. Cullom five times addressed legislatures which had elected him to the upper house at Washington.

The predominant strain of the eulogies was the unassuming honesty and steadfastness of the dead.

The coffin, in a great mass of flowers, rested under the rostrum and between famous paintings of Lincoln and Douglas, which hang on either side of the hall.

The 2,200 seats were quickly filled and soon the doors were closed and hundreds were turned away. In the hall were friends and acquaintances, political and social, of many years, but the penalty of the statesman's eighty-five years of life was seen in the absence of close relatives.

Of his own blood there were present only two nieces, Mrs. G. H. Schimpff and Mrs. George Davis, and their children, of Peoria. An aged sister, Mrs. Linna Lepper, survives, but is an invalid. All the others had predeceased him to the grave.

Part of the road to the cemetery followed by the funeral procession is that over which the body of Abraham Lincoln, Cullom's early friend and predecessor, was borne nearly half a century ago. The burial ground lay deep in snow.

OPPOSE NAVAL INCREASES

Inquiry Begun Into Charges of Corruption in Japan.

Tokyo, Feb. 2.—The public prosecutor and a naval commission have opened inquiries into the charges of naval corruption. The naval commission is headed by Admiral Baron Dewa and will inquire into the allegations that Vice Admiral Fuji, formerly Japanese naval attache at Berlin, and other officers had received illicit commissions on contracts.

While certain opposition groups are attempting to make use of the charges in an effort to discredit and overthrow the ministry, there is no doubt that the public has been aroused over the allegations and will exact a rigid investigation.

The increased naval estimates, which are included in the pending budget, form another basis for an attack. Baron Shimada, who is leading the opposition, has issued a statement that he will seek the rejection of the naval increases in the diet because they are liable to arouse suspicion in the United States that they are aimed against that country.

WHAT IS OLD AGE?

Some Younger at 65 Than Others Are at 40 Years.

Old age is not marked by years, but by the stiffened frame, the hardened tissues and arteries.

So many people whom you meet about the time they reach 40 begin by saying "I can't do this, and I can't do that, because I'm getting old now," they begin to act old, feel old and they are older in appearance than many who are much more advanced in years.

When you begin to feel old, when your energy begins to fail, build yourself up with our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. It is a wonderful blood maker and strengthener.

H. C. Klyce of Corinth, Miss., says: "I am 75 years old and my blood was very poor. I was in a run-down condition and felt that I must have a tonic. Vinol was recommended and it built up my strength until I felt as strong and well as ever."

Thousands of old people have found in Vinol just the medicine they need to build up the feeble, weakened system and create strength. If it fails, we return your money. Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.
